Most the teachers here are great and the cafeteria food isn't too bad. There are a ton of dicks, so I enjoyed the teachers and staff more than the students. The fried chicken is 75% crust and 25% chicken. The wraps are also 75% tortilla. The cookies are amazing, but sell out super fast. The SoundWave Band is the best band in the land. The fine arts need more funding and recognition. The school also closed this side gate because it allowed for jay walking across the street, but that didn't stop anything. Also, the outdoor basketball court got covered by portables because the school is becoming overpopulated, so we need more classrooms. The AC they spent thousands of dollars on goes out way too much. I became alot smarter from this school in the end at least. There needs to be more parking spaces so we don't have to hike to school if we don't show up an hour early to find a spot. The principal is the best I've ever had and is the biggest supporter of all the extracurricular activities.

Gulf Breeze High School truly cares about student's education. As a rising senior, they give out so many informational meetings, have multiple qualified staff members and teachers that can help with questions, they supply you with resources and aid, and overall give me everything I need to grow. The one thing I would change which is more of a personal request, but I know many other students want it too is that there should be a chorus. Most high schools have a chorus for young singers to transition to from middle school, but at Gulf Breeze, your years of work fade away, and you are left with the choices of band or theatre. They would profit so much from a successful, well put together chorus.

At Gulf Breeze High School, teachers care more about your well being than most other schools I've been to. While academics are a high priority and are excellent, the mental health of kids is also prioritized by teachers, admin and staff. I love GBHS!!!!

I loved my time at Gulf Breeze. I got a great education there, got to play great competition in sports, and made great friends. Gulf Breeze is like a real family. It is very tight-knit and everyone supports each other. A great thing that Gulf Breeze has is it's abundance of high-level college courses that prepare you appropriately. I wouldn't have done as well as I did in my first semester of college without these courses. I miss Gulf Breeze everyday. The area that the school is in is absolutely second to none. Small town but it is gorgeous. I wouldn't trade it for anything.
